

Dear Joanne,

You may not know who I am, but you will have heard of the scale of abuse our children suffered in the care of the council. Whilst I could detail that which it took to expose the industrial scale of abuse, the ongoing fight for justice, the establishment of therapeutic support and getting Nottingham and the shire onto the IICSA radar, I thought it best, given that I didn't campaign for any political gain per se, for me to forward your mail to a few survivors, and perhaps ask them to answer.

They may not! I don't know, I haven't asked or cajoled them.

Whatever their response, whatever the outcome of the election, I will continue to stand up and amplify their voices until their lives have been rebuilt.

Yours Sincerely

David Hollas
